

Miss North Carolina and Miss North Carolina's Outstanding Teen 2023 Competitions Return to High Point, NC

05/23/2023 High Point, N.C. – The selection of the candidate who will compete in the Miss America and Miss America's Teen competitions will return to High Point, NC this summer. The Miss North Carolina Organization will host the two competitions June 22-24, 2023 at the High Point Theatre with two preliminary nights of competition and culminate with the crowning of Miss NC 2023 and Miss NC's Teen 2023. Since 1937, the Miss North Carolina organization has recognized remarkable, intelligent, and talented young women and the communities that have sponsored and supported them.

87 candidates from across North Carolina will not only compete for the two prestigious titles but also be awarded an array of academic scholarships. The organization, along with the North Carolina Education Scholarship Fund, have a goal of awarding over $115,000 in cash scholarships during the three-day competition.

"High Point played an integral part in the success of our 2022 competition," noted Susan Williams, Executive Director of the MNCO. "Nancy Bowman and her team at the HPCVB have spent countless hours helping us plan the 2023 competitions and I'm thankful for their commitment to our mission. The Triad region has a long and rich history with the Miss North Carolina organization and we are excited to crown our good will ambassador here. "

To learn more about the competitions, ticket information and associated events, visit www.MissNC.org.

About the Miss North Carolina Organization

As an official state preliminary associated with the Miss America Organization, the Miss North Carolina Organization is a part of the largest scholarship providing organization for women in the world. Promoting an emphasis on academics and communication skills, the MNCO is considered a launching pad for young women to further their academic and career goals. Karolyn Martin currently serves as Miss North Carolina 2022 and Kerrigan Brown as Miss North Carolina's Teen 2022. For more information about volunteering or competing, please visit www.missnc.org.

###