Visit High Point Announces Very Informed Person (VIP) Awareness Tour Dates

The free tours will allow attendees to visit and learn about attractions and businesses in the community

HIGH POINT, N.C. (September 1, 2023) — Visit High Point has expanded its Very Informed Person (VIP) awareness tour program, adding four new tour dates over the next year. The VIP tour series is a unique opportunity for visitor-facing businesses to explore the attractions and hidden gems of the city. The complimentary VIP tours will take place on the following dates over the next year:

- Wednesday, September 27, 2023
- Wednesday, December 6, 2023
- Wednesday, March 6, 2024
- Wednesday, June 5, 2024

This program furthers Visit High Point's efforts to support and educate those who interact with out-of-town visitors, newcomers, and prospective residents. With over 100,000 visitors annually to High Point University, 75,000 attendees at biannual markets, and a considerable influx of leisure, sports, and potential future residents, the need for knowledgeable ambassadors is paramount. The VIP tours are designed to address that need and provide participants with an insightful journey through High Point's rich history, outdoor activities, and family-friendly destinations.

Each tour will vary encompassing several must-visit locales, such as City Lake Park, High Point Museum, High Point University, Kersey Valley Attractions, Truist Point Stadium, The Art Gallery at Congdon Yards, Market District, COHAB.SPACE, Nido & Mariana Qubein Children's Museum among others.

Attendees will have the opportunity to meet community leaders and industry partners over lunch and learn about their organizations and upcoming events. Throughout the day contests will keep the excitement alive, with enticing prizes up for grabs.

Participation in the VIP tours comes at no cost to attendees, as Visit High Point covers expenses including continental breakfast, lunch, and snacks.
